

Attachment A: Grievance Procedure:

Grievance procedures have been established by the AmeriCorps program to deal with grievances from participants, labor organizations, and other interested individuals.

In general, all aggrieved parties such as members, applicants, or any other interested parties should attempt to resolve any problems or disputes with the other party on a one-to-one basis. The issues should be clearly stated and understood by both parties. If this process does not resolve the matter, the aggrieved party may request that the program provide an Alternative Dispute Resolution process (ADR) such as mediation or facilitation to resolve the dispute. The program may provide this alternative dispute process to the aggrieved party. ADR proceedings must be initiated within 45 calendar days from the date of the alleged occurrence. At the initial session of the dispute resolution proceedings, the party must be advised in writing of his or her right to file a grievance and right to arbitration. If the matter is resolved, and a written agreement is reached, the party will agree to forego filing a grievance in the matter under consideration.

If mediation, facilitation, or other dispute resolution processes are selected, the process must be aided by a neutral party who, with respect to an issue in controversy, functions specifically to aid the parties in resolving the matter through a mutually achieved and acceptable written agreement. The neutral party may not compel a resolution. Proceedings before the neutral party must be informal, and the rules of evidence will not apply. Except for a written and agreed upon dispute resolution agreement, the proceeding must be confidential.

If an ADR is used and the matter is not resolved within 30 calendar days from the date the dispute resolution process began, the neutral party mediating or facilitating the process must again notify the aggrieved party of his/her right to file a formal grievance. In the event an aggrieving party files a grievance, the neutral party may not participate in the formal complaint process. In addition, no communications or proceedings of the information dispute resolution process may be referred to or introduced into evidence at the grievance and arbitration hearing. Any decision by the neutral party is advisory and not binding unless both parties agree.

The aggrieved party may request a grievance hearing without participating in ADR or if the ADR process fails to facilitate a mutually agreeable resolution. The aggrieved party should make a written request for a hearing to Charlie Wiles, CIC Executive Director, at charlie@centerforinterfaithcooperation.org or (317) 318-5304. In the event that the grievance is against the individual listed above, the aggrieved party should make a written request for a hearing to Allison Bishop, allison@centerforinterfaithcooperation.org or (765) 656-4961. Except for a grievance that alleges fraud or criminal activity, a request for a grievance hearing must be made within one year after the date of the alleged occurrence. It is preferred that they be filed no later than 60 days after the date of the alleged occurrence. At the time a request for a hearing is made, the program should make available to the aggrieved party information that it relied upon in its disciplinary decision, if the grievance relates to a disciplinary decision.

A neutral organization staff member will conduct the grievance hearing. The person conducting the hearing may not have participated in any previous decisions concerning the issue in dispute, and no proceeding of the ADR may be referred to or introduced into evidence during the grievance procedures. A hearing must be held no later than 30 calendar days after the filing of the grievance, and a written decision must be made no later than 60 calendar days after filing.

Allegations of fraud or criminal activity must be reported immediately to the Corporation for National and Community Service's Inspector General. If the grievance pertains to discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, or disability the member will be immediately notified in writing of his/her right to file a discrimination complaint with the Corporation's Equal Opportunity Office. (In general, the member has 180 days after the alleged discrimination to file a complaint with the Corporation.)

If the grievance hearing decision is averse to the aggrieved party who filed the grievance or 60 calendar days after filing of a grievance no decision has been reached, the filing party may submit the grievance to binding arbitration before a qualified arbitrator. The disputing parties will jointly select the arbitrator. The arbitrator must be independent of the disputing parties. If the parties cannot agree on an arbitrator within 15 calendar days after receiving a request from one of the disputing parties, the Corporation for National and Community Service's Chief Executive Officer (CEO) will appoint an arbitrator from a list of qualified arbitrators. An arbitration proceeding must be held no later than 45 calendar days after the request for arbitration. If the CEO, however, selects the arbitrator, the proceeding must occur no later than 30 calendar days after the arbitrator's appointment.

Arbitrator's Decision: A decision must be made by the arbitrator no later than 30 calendar days after the date the arbitration proceeding begins.

Cost: The cost of the arbitration proceeding must be divided evenly between the parties to the arbitration. If, however, the aggrieved party prevails in the binding arbitration proceeding, the state or local applicant that is party to the grievance must pay the total cost of the proceeding and the prevailing parties' attorney fees.

If a grievance is filed regarding a proposed placement of a participant, such placement must not be made unless the placement is consistent with the resolution of the grievance.

Remedies: Remedies for a grievance filed under a procedure established by a recipient of Corporation assistance may include:

- Prohibition of a placement of a participant; and
- In grievance cases where there is a violation of non-duplication or non-displacement requirements and the employer of the displaced employee is the recipient of Corporation assistance:
 - Reinstatement of the employee to the position he or she held prior to the displacement;
 - Payment of lost wages and benefits;
 - Re-establishment of other relevant terms, conditions and privileges of employment; and
 - Any other equitable relief that is necessary to correct any violation of the nonduplication or non-displacement requirements or to make the displaced employee whole.

The Corporation may suspend or terminate payments for assistance under this chapter.

Attachment B: Prohibited Activities
